

Admissions Policy for Higher and Further Education courses

ArtsEd's policies and procedures for admission aim to identify applicants who can benefit from the professional training and education we offer. The aim is to make sure that there is a good match between your abilities and aptitudes and the demands of the course, so that those who begin a course can reasonably expect to succeed, and to achieve a qualification.

ArtsEd is committed to opening up opportunities for applicants from varied backgrounds, who can demonstrate that they have the capacity to benefit from the training and education and to succeed in their chosen career. The selection process looks at your educational qualifications, but the main focus will be on ascertaining your potential. Motivation and practical experience alone do not assure success on these courses, but ArtsEd puts huge emphasis on commitment and a positive work ethic.

Places for all courses are offered only after an interview or audition. We undertake to interview or audition every eligible applicant. The individual course entries on the website outline what evidence of your abilities you may be asked to provide before or during an interview or audition.

The ArtsEd's equal opportunities policy applies to the admissions process. The same criteria for selection apply to all applicants.
